

Two-Year Public Colleges

Programs in these schools last from 6 to 24 months and can lead to diplomas, certificates, and associate degrees. Some programs are designed for transfer for credit at four-year colleges and universities. Others are technical programs that teach students specific occupational skills or improve their present job skills.

With one exception, the colleges listed in this section are part of the Kentucky Community and Technical College System (KCTCS). Lexington Community College is not a part of KCTCS; it is associated with the University of Kentucky. KCTCS schools are currently in the process of consolidating several schools. Schools are listed according to information provided to KHEAA at the time this book went to print and are subject to change.

Financial aid programs administered by two-year public colleges are listed on the following pages in alphabetical order.
